

The Telling of Our Truths

By Peter K Elkus

Peter K Elkus. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 212 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.6in. The Telling of Our Truths has been written in response to critics and professionals complaint of performers who sing or play well - yet say little with their music. In Truths, Peter Elkus both dissects and formulates the elements of Great Musical Performance. With a passion for artistic expression, he psychologically and practically demonstrates how education, which starts at home, can support or impede freedom in expression. He spells out the hows and whys of positive educational development in creativity and expression. To establish a common base, he re-defines Freuds theory on Narcissism, puts definition to the terms Ego and Self, presents clarity to the elusive description of Art and explores the relationship of artistry to ego. The book provides stories and examples from the music business, the classroom, and from his very specific philosophy of music. It presents different vocal technique sourced in this different approach. The book is broken into three parts: Part One Educating Creativity. Why we perform; how education helps or hinders us, the resultant psychological implications, and Narcissism. Part Two Reprogramming, to regain Self and artistry; the privilege, method and...
