Older women on the plantation acted as nurses for all the small children and babies while their parents worked in the fields. The mistress would keep a sharp eye on the children also to see that they were well cared for. A slave s life was very valuable to their owners. Punishment was seldom necessary on the Willis plantation as the master and mistress did everything possible to make their slaves happy; and to a certain extent indulged them. They were given whisky liberally from their master s still; and other choice food on special occasions. I remember once, remarked Mrs. Callaway, my aunt Rachel burned the biscuits and the young master said to her, Rachel, you nursed me and I promised not to ever whip you, so don t worry about burning the bread. My mistress was very fond of me, too, and gave me some of everything that she gave her own children, tea cakes, apples, etc. She often told me that she was my mother and was supposed to look after me. In...
